EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Charles M. Leedon, Jr. Reg. No. 26,477 on 03/30/2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the disclosure:

On the first page;

-- This application claims priority to provisional application 60/191,121, filed 03/22/2000--, has been inserted after the title, but before "Field of the Invention".

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 2-5 are allowed.
3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art of record fails to teach a communication system that integrates a plurality of wireless communication networks capable of independent operation where access is coordinated to maximize efficiency. The network includes a plurality of wireless communication networks providing service to users in overlapping geographic areas and using different communication modes and operating at different broadcast strengths. Each of the networks forms different tiers of successively greater effective broadcast areas to serve ever-greater geographic areas. The first tier has the greatest geographic broadcast area and the last tier has the smallest broadcast area.

Within the network, a plurality of portable wireless, multi-modal access devices, are capable of operating in at least some of the plurality of communication modes corresponding to some of the networks, and being capable of establishing a communication session over a first communication link using any one of said corresponding communication networks. To maximize efficiency, a network controller coordinates requests for service by devices and causes wireless communication links to be established with a particular device respectively using the communication network that has the capability of providing the services requested and that is within the tier serving the smallest possible geographic broadcast area thereby using more efficiently the available radio spectrum by driving users to the networks serving the smallest broadcast areas.

Shaheen et al. (6,128,490), in view of Kotzin et al. (5,974,319), cited in a prior office action recited a communication system integrating a plurality of communication networks where portable wireless stations would access the networks based on mode and type of service. Therefore, Shaheen and Kotzin disclosed many of the features of the current invention. However Shaheen and Kotzin failed to teach maximizing efficiency by coordinating the request for service to the system within the smallest tier of service and within the smallest broadcast area. That is, the prior art failed to teach, a network controller coordinating requests for service by devices and causing wireless communication links to be established with a particular device respectively using the communication network that has the capability of providing the services requested and that is within the tier serving the smallest possible geographic broadcast area thereby using more efficiently the available radio spectrum by driving users to the networks serving the smallest broadcast areas.
